a River Edge community newsletter

Merry Christmas

This month has just gotten away from us! Here it is the end of December and we've been so busy that the newsletter was almost lost! But you probably know what we mean, with all the holiday preparations and hustle and bustle of the season.

There is plenty of activity in town that you and your neighbors in River Edge need to know about. For example, Republican Councilmen Johnny Porco and Paul Cordts championed the citizens' opposition and search for alternatives to the Elm Street Fire Siren, and much welcomed new business activity can be seen in several parts of town.

In future newsletter issues we will go into more detail about these and other important happenings in River Edge, and how our Republican Council Members are leading the way forward.

Re-PUB-lican Happy Hour Friday, 12/30/11

The Re-PUB-lican informal Happy Hour socials are back! Come join the group for an informal, come-as-you-are get together:

When - Friday, December 30, 2011
5:30 pm to 7:30 pm

Where - The Poitin Still
Irish Pub & Restaurant
774 Main Street, Hackensack

The Poitin Still is adjacent to Johnson Avenue in the north end of Hackensack, with plenty of parking available. Bring a friend, and come join the team to celebrate the holidays and welcome the New Year a bit early. Cash bar.

But enough of business. It's time to take a break from the serious issues of our town and celebrate the holidays.

We hope each and every one of you will enjoy this holy and festive time of year with family and friends. On behalf of all involved with the River Edge Republican Team, we extend best wishes to all!
